Cartouche Painting Workshop

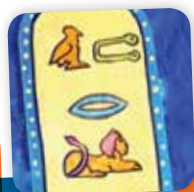

Cartouche Painting Workshop

Education Group's Egyptian Cartouche Painting Workshop is a unique way to study ancient Egypt.

The workshop provides a great way to learn about the topic and is a fantastic hands-on cultural arts experience.

In the early days of ancient Egypt, Kings and important people encircled their name (written in hieroglyphics) with a design that we now call a Cartouche. This Cartouche was an oval circle and looked rather like a nameplate. Around the design was a picture of a rope, tied at one end protecting everything inside.

All children learn to paint their name in hieroglyphics on their very own Egyptian cartouche

The workshop caters for between 50 and 200 children per day with every child having the chance to paint their name in hieroglyphics on their own cartouche. Our artist sets up a mobile studio in your school and provides specialist child-friendly materials.

On the day of the Workshop, as well as painting and decorating their own Cartouche the children also learn about the history of Ancient Egypt. The workshop is suitable for all ages and all of the equipment and materials are provided.

Many of our schools also enjoy our specialist Egyptian Dance Workshop's which provide a different way for children to enjoy and have fun. This could be part of a 2 day event with the Cartouche Painting Workshop.

Schools could use these Workshops for fundraising purposes by accepting a contribution from parents towards their child's Cartouche.
